MRS. STORY

Elected President General on The Third Ballot Cast.

HOT FINISH IN THE D. A. R.

Victory of "Antis" Somewhat Tempered by Loss of All New Vice-Presidents

Washington, April 18.—Mrs. William Cummings Story, of New York, head of the conservative faction, late today was elected president-general of the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, defeating Mrs. John Miller Horton, of Buffalo, the administration candidate, on the third ballot. The vote stood: Mrs. Story 600; Mrs. Horton, 449.

Mrs. Chas. B. Bryan withdrew before the third ballot began.

Seven vice-presidents-general also were elected to complete the complement of new general officers. They were: Mrs. Thomas Kite, of Ohio; Mrs. Rhett Goode, of Alabama; Mrs. John Swift, of California; Mrs. Allen P. Perley, of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Ben F. Gray, Jr., of Missouri; Miss Harriet I. Lake, of Iowa, and Mrs. John Le Dinwiddie, of Indiana.

Three vice-presidents-general were elected on the first ballot.

The election of Mrs. Story ends a five-year campaign. She was defeated by Mrs. Scott in the last two elections.

While the delegations were casting their ballots the various state regents continued making their reports. Several valuable gifts were given Mrs. Scott and there were a number of presentations to the national society.

Mrs. Scott was elected honorary president-general, an honor held only by five former presiding officers of the society.

HOPKINSVILLE PEOPLE

Were Numerous in Louisville Last Week.

There were a large number of people in Louisville last week, probably more than for a year.

The first delegation went up to attend the meeting of the Kentucky Manufacturers Association at Hotel Watterson. The second delegation was composed of men in all departments of business. County Attorney Duffy had arranged for a conference with the Railroad Commission in regard to obtaining a lower freight rate on coal to Hopkinsville. He called on the business men of the city to go with him as by their presence and information they might be able to furnish help to win the fight in which every citizen is interested. The party went up in a special car and every man did what he could to secure a lower rate on coal. Mr. Duffy made the main argument before the commission.

Morgan, Jr., and in the event of his death to the grandson, Junius Spencer Morgan. No estimate of his estate is made and none will be given out until after the appraisement for the inheritance tax.

And Five Are Wounded In The Battle, Two of Them Fatally.

Franklin, Ky., April 21.—Sheriff J. R. Dossett, of this county, shot and killed William Taylor, keeper of the county farm, in a difficulty at the fair grounds at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Others less seriously wounded were: John Larue, flesh wound in calf of leg; Vernon Witt, slightly wounded in shoulder; Will Moore, wounded in cheek. Several others whose names have not been learned are also said to have been shot.

The shooting grew out of a difficulty between Sheriff Dossett and Taylor's youngest son, Hobdy, in regard to one of the games at the Kelly Carnival Company's show at the fair grounds. Some twenty-five or thirty shots were fired in all, but the Sheriff and his deputies escaped unhurt.

The tests were made during the recent baby exhibit at public school No. 101, New York, and the winner was little Joseph Keller, nine months old. The matter of mere beauty did not count in the tests, but the questions of uniformity, symmetry, brightness, evidences of dawning intelligence, intelligence, incipient perception and disposition were all considered.

CHILD BURNED
TO DEATH

Little Girl's Clothing Catches Fire While Playing With Candles.

CLOTHING BURNED OFF BODY

Lived Only About Six Hours in the Greatest of Agony.

Clara Virginia Thomas, the five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Georgia Thomas, Main and Seventeenth Sts., died Sunday night about 10 o'clock from burns received about 4 o'clock that afternoon.

The little girl is next to the youngest of five girls, the youngest being about 12 months of age.

She had gone to the home of Mr. Ezy Yancey on North Main, just beyond the city limits, to participate in the birthday anniversary of another child. On the table was a birthday cake with a burning candle for each year. Mrs. Yancey left the room where the children were gathered around the table and the little girls took some of the burning candles from the cake to play with. Little Clara Virginia's clothing caught on fire and it was entirely burned from her body, only the waistband of her dress and the collar band remaining.

Mrs. Yancey rushed back to the room and did all she could to extinguish the flames and in doing so had both hands badly burned.

Medical aid was summoned at once and Drs. Thomas, Lackey and Rice went out in an automobile and did what they could for the little sufferer and removed her to her home. Seven-eighths of the child's body was burned and it was evident from the first that there was no chance for her recovery and the little sufferer passed away about 10 o'clock.

The little girl was unusually bright and attractive and was a great favorite with her playmates and the people of the neighborhood. Mrs. Thomas has the deepest sympathy of her neighbors and friends in her unlooked for bereavement.

Funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

It is green all over with the exception of a black spot on its back, and whether or not this color will change as the dog grows older is an interesting subject of speculation with its owner.

MORE SEWERS
TO BE BUILT

Contract Let For One To Cost About $2,900 On Liberty Street.

PASS PAVEMENT ORDINANCES

New Colored Cemetery Opened And Lots are Now On Sale.

The City Council transacted some important business Friday night.

The contract for crushed stone for 1913 was awarded to the Hopkinsville Stone Co., the only bidder, at 92c per cubic yard.

Four bids for a sewer on Liberty and Third streets, about 800 feet long, were opened and the contract awarded to The Meacham Contracting Co., the lowest bidder, at $3 45 a lineal foot. It has a pavement on top of it to be paid for by property owners at 12c a square foot, the rest to be paid by the city.

It was ordered that bids be opened for street paving of "bitulithic, vitrified brick or concrete asphalt," on about 10,000 square yards on Virginia, Seventh, Sixth and Water streets. The character of the streets was not settled upon. The city last year put down 13,500 square yards of bitulithic streets at a cost of $1.50 a square yard.

The Cave Spring Colored Cemetery was ordered opened and lots sold at 5 cents a foot for the front lots and 3 cents for those further back. Single graves $2 50.

Mayor Meacham was authorized to appoint officers for the school elections the first Saturday in May.

Pavement ordinances were given their second passage ordering concrete sidewalks on Cleveland avenue, east side; Tenth street, south side from Virginia to Liberty and Twelfth street, Clay and Thirteenth in connection with another proposed sewer.

An ordinance was also passed permitting an alley in the lot bought by the Jennie Stuart Hospital to be closed.

Modest Wit.

Jean de Reszke was a guest of a large party given to a number of distinguished musicians. In the course of the evening one of the company put the somewhat tactless question, "Who is the most popular artist on the musical stage?"

"Paa do Reszke!" flashed back the famous singer, thus punningly denying his own claim and in its stead asserting the great Paderewski.

Shortening of the Day.

For a long time it has been known that the tides act as a brake on the rotating earth and that they tend to lengthen the day. The effect is, however, so slight that it cannot be measured in any length of time at man's disposal. It may be estimated, with the aid of certain assumption and upon the data available, MacMillan has made the necessary computation by the formula used by engineers. He finds for the increase of the length of the day one second in 460,000 years.—Harper's Weekly.

African Dwarf Elephants.

An English official in Uganda claims to have seen a herd of dwarf elephants, the existence of which has often been affirmed by natives. When recently seen the company consisted of from 30 to 40 individual elephants wandering in solitary fashion over a plain. A dead member of the flock was afterward found, the tusk of which weighed but eight kilograms.

YOUR MIND ON YOUR WORK

Man Who Makes Good Is One Who Can Shut Out of Mind All but One Thing.

The man who makes good is the man who can shut out of his mind all but one thing. An unsuccessful principal of a school once said that every teacher ought to be able to do three things at once. Of course, he was wrong. The teacher who does one thing at a time and does it well is giving the pupil the best possible object lesson in concentration. We have to learn to think clearly amid distracting noises, to go forward on a straight and narrow way without diversions and excursions that waste our time and our substance, and to keep at work regardless of the "fired" feeling, the "spring" feeling, and whether the fishing is good or not. When the soft breeze comes in at the window we stiffen the moral fiber against its allurements. We must pin our attention firmly to the turgid and dry geometry of a legal brief, or the serious figures of the daybook, or the busy system of a mercantile establishment, and let every other thought await its turn at the end of office hours. You may have heard a great lawyer in action in a crowded courtroom. What was the secret of his power? It was that he would not let the jury's attention or the witness' tongue wander from the relevant facts. He kept insistently to the straight line that is the shortest distance from point to point. He curtly dismissed all that was superfluous, immaterial and calculated to blur the salient outlines of the matter in controversy.—Philadelphia Ledger.

To Cut Cardboard.

Cardboard is used for so many purposes that it is well to know the way to get straight edges. Never use scissors for the purpose, for that makes ragged edges. Instead use a ruler, preferably a brass-edged one, and lay it on the cardboard with the brass edge upward. As the ruler has a bevel edge the brass is a fraction of an inch above the board when it is properly placed. Now get a very sharp penknife, hold the ruler firmly and draw the knife along the brass edge. Do not attempt to cut through the cardboard the first time, but merely score it deeply. Now remove the ruler and cut through the incision. The result will be a clean-cut edge, such as a picture dealer makes on mats.

MRS. ALBERT SIDNEY BURLESON WELL KNOWN

Mrs. Burleson presents many charming phases of a strong personality, and, though she is totally without ambition to become a leader of social affairs, she will unconsciously make her impress on the new administration at Washington. On both sides of her family she belongs to the old south and has all the conservatism of that class. Being a highly educated woman, she is also one of advanced ideas and was among the very first of the daughters of the Lone Star state to become a convert to equal suffrage. She can present an academic argument on this subject which would make the most stubborn and well informed opponent look up his books to answer. She is thoroughly domestic, attends to her home and her family herself, answers her own letters and is one of the most punctilious about her social obligations. It was predicted that the Wilson regime would present a less pretentious social appearance than the last, and that those with whom the first lady would be surrounded during the coming four years would be representative of the more serious aspects of life. In Mrs. Burleson this prediction is literally fulfilled.

"I should like," she said, shortly before March 4, "to see the old-fashioned virtues revived, and I think that all this agitation will have that desirable result. Women are clamoring about the high price of living, with the result that they are looking into matters themselves and finding out where to locate the remedy. It means going to market for thousands who never dreamed of such a thing a few years ago, and it means awakening to the fact that economy demands strict personal attention. This sense of responsibility is alone worth untold wealth in the material sense, and for the happiness of homes and the increased prosperity of the small household is inestimable. In my list of old-fashioned virtues I include that of supervising the needs of the home every morning, not through a maid or even a housekeeper, but by the wife herself. This is possible unless one is very much occupied with very grave things, and it means to simplify life and add to the comfort of every member of the family. I believe in the gentle art of needlework, and even in the exceedingly obsolete occupation of darning the family hosiery.

"I find no study more entertaining than that of the varied life of the woman of today compared with that of her grandmother. I feel very grateful indeed that the horizon has expanded so and that having attended faithfully to the home there is so much to inspire and encourage. There are the clubs, for instance, especially the patriotic ones, where we breathe an atmosphere of history in its best sense and where we can do a little missionary work for those not so well envolved. The social side of patriotic and literary clubs is one of the genuine pleasures of my home city, as it is here. But these are mere diversions and I should deplore very much should any sort of club prevent a woman from attending to the real work of life which pertains to her home and her family. This opinion is voiced by all those who are urging a larger share of municipal responsibility for women. If I thought such privileges would make women restless or unfit for domestic relations, I should cease to sympathize. I believe it will have just an opposite effect and that after ten years of voting the result will be as encouraging as the experiment of higher education for women has proven."

Mrs. Burleson was educated partly by governesses in her home in Austin after going to New York for special courses and finished her training by two years abroad. When her eldest daughter was studying in the Texas university, and having for various reasons to spend part of the winter in Austin, she took a course of English and literature and she anticipate at some future time finishing this course and standing for a degree. Mr. and Mrs. Burleson are staunch advocates of the higher intellectual training and it was by their counsel that their eldest daughter continued her studies instead of making her debut this season.

SENATE'S NEW SECRETARY ACTIVE IN POLITICS

James N. Baker, who the other day was elected secretary of the senate, was born August 18, 1861, at Lowdensville, S. C., where he has retained his legal residence.

He was educated at Wofford college, South Carolina, and studied law in New York. In 1885 Mr. Baker was appointed official stenographer for the Fifth judicial circuit court, but he declined the appointment. He became assistant librarian of the senate in 1892, and has served in that office until the present.

Mr. Baker has been active in politics, and has attended all the Democratic national conventions in the last twenty years. He has acted as a confidential assistant to various Democratic senators and to chairmen of the Democratic minority in the past. Through his long experience he has become known as an expert in all matters relating to legislative history, procedure and research.

Upward of two hours were consumed examining charges that Baker had speculated in cotton. Baker appeared before the caucus, admitted the charge, said he tried to increase his income by that method, and lost, but had paid every dollar he lost through the Sully failure. One senator observed that if all men who ever speculated were brought before the caucus for examination it might be necessary to put every senator on the stand.

In the end Baker was exonerated.

WOULD BUILD CATHEDRAL FOR ALL RELIGIONS

Carmen Sylva, the famous queen of Roumania, has an interesting article in the London Fortnightly Review on the subject "If I Were a Millionaire."

Sitting at the dinner table in her mountain castle of Sinaia, her majesty took part in a conversation upon the rich men of America, and asked what she would do if she were a millionaire, said she would build a cathedral with chapels for every religion in it and an arts school beside it.

"You can build ever so many houses," she says, "and misery will enter there; care will follow the inhabitants, anger and strife and illness and death cannot be kept away. There is only one peaceful house on earth—that is God's house."

Carmen Sylva makes an interesting reference to Westminster abbey. "I spent one evening of my life alone in Westminster abbey," she says, "be side the organ and even before it, playing a few chords only, in the gathering dust, when the statues began to look as if they were alive and moving, and I have felt better since."

The cathedral her majesty would build would be of white marble, like that of Milan, inside and out; not so ornamented, much quieter than Milan, but with columns that would give the feeling of a beech wood. . . . If I were a queen in a fairy tale I should do all that. But the queens in life have never a penny to bless themselves with, as so many poor people have to be helped that there is never anything left for the poor queen; she has to be content with looking at other people's beautiful creations."

FRANKLIN K. LANE IS NOW FULL-FLEDGED CHIEF

Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, has had many honors conferred upon him.

To begin with, he was born in Canada, but early in life he moved to California and, after running newspapers and practicing law alternately, he was nominated for governor of the state. When he was defeated by a suspiciously close margin President Roosevelt put him on the interstate commerce commission. By common repute he is the man who put the "punch" in the commission and made the railroads sit up and take notice. Then President Wilson put him in charge of the interior department.

The other day a delegation of Blackfoot Indians came along and made him a chief of their tribe. The honor was unusual, unheralded and unexpected. The Indian braves presented him with a calumet pipe—the pipe of peace—and after mulling several strange sentences over him he was declared to be a full-fledged chief.

A delegation of Crows made the Indian honor sort of a family affair by presenting Mr. Lane's daughter with a string of beads and other evidences of their friendship.

Wide Acquaintance. The Washington Post tells this story of a dowager whose wealth and education were of exceedingly recent acquisition. According to her accounts, the trip round the world that she had completed had been socially most successful.

Some of her friends were questioning her about the places of interests that she had visited.

"Did you see the Dardanelles?" asked one.

"And the Himalayas?" inquired another.

"Why, certainly," replied the dowager. "I dined with them both in Paris."—Youth's Companion.

EASY TO LIVE FOR CENTURY

Body Can Be Trained to Become Perfect Servant of the Will, Declares Professor.

Dr. Frank Ellsworth Allard, professor of physical economics at the Boston university medical school, believes that 100 years should be the average life of man, the New York Herald's correspondent writes. "The old biblical passage anent the life of man being three score years and ten is put into our head at Sunday school," said Dr. Allard, "and we later accept it as a matter of course. It is unfortunate that we have the limit of life in mind. We ought to live to be 100. All disease is a process of disintegration.

"I believe that every disease of every name and nature begins primarily in the breaking of some of nature's laws. I believe that the body may be so trained that it becomes a perfect servant of the will. The keeping of nature's laws is the most perfect form of morality.

"To my way of thinking, we must look to sanitation for the solution of our health problems. "Insurance statistics show that among insured lives of men between the ages of 45 and 55 the death rate is greater than ever before. They would live longer and accomplish more if they ate less, drank less and indulged in daily periods of rest and recreation.

"There are thousands of women—and not a few men—whose health is being sapped by the habits of idleness and gossip. These people are lazy, mentally and physically, and their viewpoint on life is purely personal and usually petty. Laziness gives rise to sluggish livers and unhealthy habits of introspection; which in turn breeds neurasthenia and imaginary ills that become real so far as the sufferings of the patient are concerned.

"Intemperance in the use of alcoholic stimulants is, perhaps, the greatest curse of our age. The whole problem of drunkenness should be dealt with as a mental affliction, a weakening of the will.

"The old line practitioner is bound to pass. The family doctor as we know him today is doomed to extinction. His place will be taken by the physician who will fulfill the real meaning of the word, which is 'teacher.'

Hints on Exercise.
Exercise favors the growth of bone and muscle. It quickens the elimination of waste products. It accelerates the work of the liver, the lungs, the skin and the kidneys. It makes more active the brain. It brightens the eye, clears the skin and tones up the whole organism. The appetite is made keener and digestion is aided by a greater appetite for food.

But while exercise is absolutely necessary to health and to perfect digestion, it does not always achieve this end, as, for instance, when it is taken too soon before or after meals. No one should exercise immediately preceding or following a meal, one hour before and two hours after eating being the better time. It is fairly safe, however, to fix the time preceding a meal at one hour, for the stomach is then somewhat empty—Health and Strength.

Hydropathic Hydrophobia.

A story is being told of a rather brusque young doctor who had among his patients at the surgery one day a rather dirty infant, carried by an even dirtier mother.

After glancing at the child he said gravely: "This child is suffering from hydropathic hydrophobia."

The mother gave an agonized wail: "Oh, doctor, whatever shall I do?" "Wash its face," said the doctor promptly. "Wash its face, and the disease will come off with the dirt."

The woman flared up angrily. "Wash its face!" she repeated in a shrill voice. "Wash its face, indeed! What-aver next!"

"Wash your own!" retorted the doctor. "Wash your own!"

The consultation closed in some confusion.

Parrot at Prayers.

One morning our family prayers were interrupted in a comical way. A Captain Druid and his wife were staying with us for a few days. Having no child their affections centered in a gray parrot on whose education most of their time was spent. For fear of accidents he was not allowed in the breakfast room till after prayers. One morning, however, by some mischance, he was there, but behaved with becoming decorum until prayers were nearly over. My father had got into the middle of the Lord's Prayer, when, in a loud voice, Puck cried out:

"As many as are of the contrary opinion will say 'aye,' contrary, 'no.' The 'ayes' have it."

As I need hardly say, prayers were finished under difficulties.—From Seventy Years of Irish Life.

Devoted Adherent of Nicotine.

Charles Kingsley, author of "Westward Ho!" stands high in the list of clerical smokers. "My father used to tell," writes A. C. Benson, "how once he was walking with Kingsley round about Eversley, when Kingsley suddenly stopped and said, 'It's no use; I know you detest tobacco, Benson, but I must have a smoke.' And he had accordingly gone to a big furze bush and put his arm in at a hole and after some groping about produced a big churchwarden pipe, which he filled and smoked with great satisfaction, afterward putting it into a hollow tree, and telling my father, with a chuckle, that he had concealed pipes all over the parish to meet the exigencies of a sudden desire to smoke."

Miss L. A. Hester, Fifteenth and Clay Sts., Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "The pain in my back caused by disordered kidneys was so severe some days I often felt like lying down. If I would walk any distance or over-exert myself in any way, I was troubled most and if I caught cold it made me miserable. In the morning I felt stiff and sore and found it difficult to dress. A kidney weakness bothered me. I doctored but found little relief. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I got a box. They removed the pains in my back and corrected the kidney difficulty."

WAYS OF INDUCING SLEEP

Many and Curious Methods Have Been Resorted to in All Ages.

Many and curious have been the methods employed to induce sleep in all ages. Even from the primitive pillow stuffed with the narcotic-leaf to the more modern one advocated by a well known Swedish doctor—of getting between the blankets dripping from a cold bath.

But perhaps none is so extraordinary as that recently invented by an eminent German doctor and scientist. By his system it is possible to switch sleep "off" and "on," precisely as one manipulates the electric light.

Thus it is by electricity that the doctor is able to promise sleep to the most inveterate of insomnia victims. By means of a small electrically-worked machine, he applies the current to the base of the skull, which produces a "deadening" effect on the nerves. This state can be kept up for as long a period as desired. Up to the present experiments have been practically confined to animals; but, as it was found they could be brought to full consciousness within a minute or two, it is believed the invention can have no evil effects on humans.

After a hearty meal, take Doan's Regulets and assist your stomach, liver and bowels. Regulets are a mild laxative. 25c at all stores. Advertisement.

Hints to Housekeepers.

Don't try to become accustomed to a smoky furnace. It can't be done. Spots on the parlor walls may be treated effectively by hanging pictures over them.

The only sure way to get a good line fence between your property and your neighbor's is to build it yourself.

In extreme cases it has been found possible to induce a landlord to make needed repairs by writing to the papers about him—but not often.

One advantage in living in a house with a narrow frontage is that you have less snow to clean off your walk.

Itching, torturing skin eruptions disfigure, annoy and drive one wild. Doan's Ointment is praised for its good work. 50c at all drug stores. Advertisement.

No Suffragette Views.

A visitor at a seaside boarding house went into the local postoffice and, seeking to draw the postmaster into conversation, asked him what his views were as to suffragettes. "Hain't got no views of that kind," replied the postmaster, "but we've got some fine postcard views of the new viaduct, the Baptist church, and the new library. Want to look at 'em?"—London Tit-Bits.

WHAT IT MEANS

When Business Men Devote
Time and Money For General Good.

Did you ever stop to think a moment about what it means for the very busiest of business men to leave their business and go to Louisville on a matter concerning the general public? If you haven't, now, as Sam Jones used to say so often, "Listen!"

It means that these men defrayed their own expenses for you.

It means that they have a desire to help everybody who uses coal.

It means that the farmer is as much benefited as the town man.

It means that the farmer ought to appreciate what the town man will do for him.

It means that to suggest and do things are entirely different actions, but both are good.

It means, as one of the gentlemen in the crowd said, letting down the bars for reduction of rates on other things besides coal.

It means that, as another suggested, if the Railroad Commission does not grant the relief sought the next Legislature ought to abolish the Commission.

It means more comfort in the homes of our people during the winter and more money to supply the needs of every man, woman and child in the city and in the country.

It means that corporations, like individuals in business want all they can get, but sometimes will take a

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

small price if they can't get a big one.

It means that everybody will buy more coal at 9 cents per bushel than at 12 cents.

It means that the middle man in the coal trade will receive the same profit he does now.

It means that the man in the mines will receive as much per bushel for his work as he does now and more coal will have to be mined, more coal will have to be hauled by the railroads, more work and men employed by the retailer and more warmth in the homes.

It means that the men who fully abandon business for two or three days and plan for cheaper coal and pay the money out of their pockets to bring about all these changes are the backbone of the city's best interests and are the men to be trusted in every crisis.

We could name many other things that such men are instrumental in bringing about, but the foregoing are sufficient to convince any unprejudiced mind that no community can prosper and be happy without such characters. And it is in such crises that the real man discovers himself, sees his duty and presses forward to do it—even if it does take money out of his purse.

Huerta in Hard Times.

Mexico City, April 21.—Undisguised pessimism is manifested in the capital as to the future of the Huerta government. In neither official or unofficial circles are the statements of General Enrique Obregon, commander of the Sonora insurgents, and Venustiano Carranza, ex-governor of Coahuila, of the probable overthrow of Huerta longer derided. Without exception the newspapers aver that the only hope of salvation lies in the flotation of a loan. Practically all of them admit that non-recognition of the present administration makes this very doubtful.

AT THE AVALON

Temperance and Woman Suffrage To Be Discussed.

Miss Laura Clay, who is to speak at the Avalon on next Thursday night under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., is a descendant of the illustrious Clay family, of which Kentucky is so proud, and has inherited the gift of eloquence so characteristic of that family. She will speak on Temperance and in connection with it the one thing that many advocates of the great reform have come to believe is necessary to its final triumph—Woman Suffrage. Jack London, that forceful and virile writer and student of the passions of men, has in a recent publication stated that he favored the vote for women because it was only by that means could prohibition be obtained.

All who are interested in the moral uplift of Hopkinsville come and hear Miss Clay; you will be entertained and enlightened on these subjects which are such live questions at this time.

The Manhattan (Kansas) Republic says: "Miss Clay made the principal speech of the evening. Many who heard her remarked that it was a great speech—one of the greatest they ever heard; and that the fact, logic, and history were irresistible."

TEMPERANCE SERMONS

Were Preached at Many City
Churches Sunday.

Dr. Palmer, President of the anti-Slavery League, preached last Sunday morning at the Methodist church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. A. R. Kasey. He made a strong plea in favor of the League. Rev. Charles Nourse, at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. H. Clay Smith at the First Christian church, Rev. J. B. Eshman at the Cumberland church, and Dr. Calvin M. Thompson at the Baptist church, all by agreement, preached strong sermons at the morning services in favor of the Anti-Slavery League.

Weather For The Week.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—Fair weather will prevail the next few days in the Eastern and Southern states, according to the weather Bureau. The next storm of importance to cross the country will appear in the West Tuesday, cross the great Central valleys Thursday or Friday and the Eastern states near the end of the week. This disturbance will be preceded by a rise in temperature and attended by showers, followed by considerably cooler weather.

GATLIN-CANSLER

Popular Couple Married Here
Sunday Morning.

Mr. W. R. Gatlin, formerly of this city, but now of Louisville, and Miss Pearl Cansler, of Earlington, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. R. L. Thompson, East 13th St., this city, at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Rev. C. M. Thompson performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Gatlin left yesterday morning for their home in Louisville. The groom was for about two years connected with the Forbes Manufacturing Co., as architect. He went to Louisville in February last, where he has since been engaged in the same business. His bride was formerly bookkeeper for C. R. Clark & Co., and has a host of friends and acquaintances in this city. For several months she had been at her home near Earlington. The young couple met here by appointment, where the nuptial knot was tied.

Mr. and Mrs. Gatlin have a host of friends who wish them a long and happy married life.

KILLARNEY ROSES

Adorned Many of the City's Pulpits Sunday.

T. L. Metcalfe, the florist, got hold of a large shipment of Killarney roses Sunday that had been refused by another party, and made a free distribution of them to his friends. He also sent large bunches of them to the different churches to adorn the pulpits. Some of the beauties were larger than a good size teacup and they looked as fresh as when first cut.

Y. M. C. A. INTEREST

Increasing and 200 New Members to Be Secured.

If anybody thinks that real enthusiasm in the work of reorganizing the Y. M. C. A. has not been aroused, he is very much mistaken. Both old and young are taking a hand in the matter.

The Board of Directors held a meeting last Sunday and several matters were discussed. The disposition of the board to encourage reorganization was manifested very plainly and the following committee was appointed to confer with a committee from the young men seeking membership, what shall be done with the Ninth street property, to arrange for a campaign for 200 new members and other matters demanding immediate attention.

Special Train to Be Run For Benefit of Teachers.

It is expected that a large number of Hopkinsville and Christian county teachers will attend the Kentucky Educational Association, which meets in Louisville for a four days session May 1st. Everything possible has been done to induce the teachers of the State to attend. T. W. Vinson, secretary of the association, has arranged for a special train to Mammoth Cave after the close of the meeting on May 3.

Dr. R. H. Perry and wife returned yesterday to their home in Dawson, after a visit to the family of Mr. D. R. Perry.

JEAN VALJEAN COMING

May Probably Be Seen At The Rex Thursday.

Manager Grau, of The Rex Theatre, expects many splendid features this week, as the irregularity of the receipt of films is becoming less frequent since communication between Chicago and the South is setting down gradually to normal conditions. One of the best bookings for some time is "Jean Valjean," one of the Victor Hugo's most noted characters. This is a 2-reel Imp. film and should prove a strong drawer, as nobody familiar with Hugo's works can afford to miss seeing Jean Valjean faithfully portrayed in the many close places in which he often found himself. Mr. Grau cannot say what day the films will be put on, but probably it will be Thursday.

To Nashville in Auto.

Fred Jackson went to Nashville Saturday in his auto, accompanied by some friends, and when near Clarksville encountered F. M. Atkins whose horse became frightened and turned his buggy over. Mr. Atkins was quite wrought up, but finally accepted $10 to repair any damages done and Mr. Jackson proceeded without further accident. He returned Sunday night.

MORNING BLAZE

Causes Loss to Laytonville Farmers.

A dwelling owned by J. C. Weddington, near Laytonville, and occupied by his son-in-law, Charles Grace, was totally destroyed by fire last Friday morning. Mr. Grace was here just a few days before and stocked up with provisions to last during the rest of the year and these together with nearly all of the other contents of the building, were burned, some flour and bedding being the only articles saved. The flames were caused by a defective flue.

Mr. Grace's loss is probably $150 and Mr. Weddington's loss on house is about $200. Neither had any insurance.

STILL CLEANING

Committee Still Hard at Work With Many Wagons.

The clearing up of the city under the direction of the Civic Improvement League was not completed Saturday and the work is going ahead a day or two this week until the trash now piled in the streets is hauled away.

Local Paragraphs.

Boys, get busy with the ball—Ty Cobb is after a salary of $15,000 for the season, and you might be a Cobb some day.

Since that young lady killed the 4th bass and Hancock Higgins has a display of his 18 catch in his show window, there has been a great rush to the stores for poles and tackle.

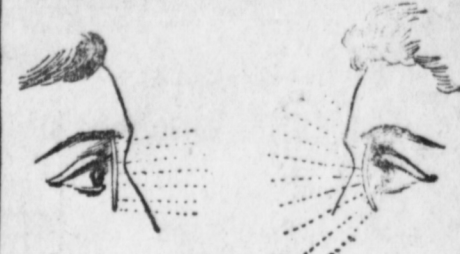

The county needs good roads more than a showy court house, so we will let it go, and not repaint the temple of justice for awhile yet.

Crofton now has a farmers' club of 75 members and will meet the third Saturday of each month.

It's the same old trouble about planting a garden—the man behind the hoe is hard to find.

Phil Brown, a former colored newspaper publisher, is back and has started another paper.

Why

"IFORM" LENSES Are Better.

It is one of the laws of physics that if we look straight through (perpendicular to the surface) any transparent substance—such as glass—the rays of light will proceed direct, but if we look at an angle to the surface, the rays of light are bent (refracted) from their straight course. Therefore, with the ordinary FLAT lens, there is only one position, the center, that gives perfect vision. With my "IFORM" LENS, no matter whether you look straight ahead, at one side, up or down, you are looking through the lens perpendicularly to the surface, and get a clear vision at the edge as through the center.

It's Like Finding Money

To Find the Clothcraft Guarantee in Your Inside Coat Pocket

MANY a man who used to pay high prices for his clothes, has discovered that the Clothcraft Guarantee means a big saving and safety against uncertain clothes values.

The Clothcraft Guarantee protects you against any defect or disappointment in material or making. It insures all-wool cloth, honest tailoring, lasting shape, satisfactory wear and service.

Unless they were certain that the clothes will make good, the makers could not afford to give such a binding guarantee. Neither can they endanger, by the risk of your dissatisfaction, their reputation built up by sixty-seven years of good clothes-making.

Clothcraft Clothes must be—and are—as good as the guarantee. You can't make a mistake in them; yet they cost no more than take-a-chance clothes—$10 to $25.

We can recommend these clothes because they measure up to the standard of quality you always find in the merchandise handled by this store.

We can back up this guarantee because we know that like everything you buy here, Clothcraft Clothes will give satisfaction.

Any time you are ready we'll be only too glad to show you these dissatisfaction-proof clothes.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The Democrats, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled new paper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

CHARACTER SHOWS IN FACE

Good Thoughts Look Out Through Kindly Eyes and Fair Pleasant Features.

Our faces are open diaries, in which any one may read the record of how we spend our days, what we think, the sort of people we are. When we say of a man that "he has a fine face," or of a woman that "she has a beautiful face," we speak of the life back of the face. What is a surer indication of this than when we see a child draw away from a first glimpse of a person? What is often so truly condemnatory as the instinctive remark of a child: "I don't like her face, mamma?"

Not always true, perhaps, not in every instance is the child right, but how often is it unerring!

If we waste the precious passing years in chasing butterflies and flitting pleasure; if we grow hard and narrow because of disappointments, or through self-indulgence, it is registered where even the child who draws away from us reads it.

The mind that generally thinks "good thoughts, true thoughts, thoughts fit to treasure up," looks out upon the world through kindly eyes and fair and pleasant features. The face of an evil man or woman wears a malignant saturnine aspect, that gives the world a warning of the inner nature.

The eyes are more eloquent than the tongue in telling others what we are.

We never hide from discerning eyes as much as we sometimes think we do. Our faces invariably tell our stories.

GROWTH OF THE LANGUAGE

Names of Prominent Persons Are Now Commonly Used as Verbs and Nouns.

The growth and change which are inseparable from all living languages cannot fail to interest the student, and a special interest attaches to the incorporation of the names of famous men, the New York Sun observes.

Thus Wellington has come to mean a sort of book; Brougham, a carriage, and Gladstone, appropriately enough, a traveler's bag, as that great man advocated the "bag and baggage" policy which seems likely at length to be adopted.

Other names have been turned into verbs as well as nouns. For instance, the murderer Burke's name is perpetuated in the verb burke, burked, burking and burkism, while in quite recent times Captain Boycott's experiences resulted in the language being enriched by the phrases boycott, boycotter, boycotting, etc.

The most notable case was probably that of the great and good man Rev. T. Bowdler, D. D., who, by publishing a "family" edition of Shakespeare in 1811, added the words "bowdlerize" and "bowdlerism" to our language.

Try to Remember These Facts.

When you lose your temper, when you procrastinate, when you get nervous, excited, when you are blue and disappointed, when you worry, you lose much of your energy, your efficiency; you cannot bring the whole, complete, positive person to your task.

A discordant, troubled, unbalanced mind is in no condition to do good work.

It is negative, and a negative mind cannot produce.

Never mind what others do; run your own machine, think your own thought, live your own life.

Let others fret and worry, if they will; keep your peace, your serenity. Do not imitate, follow, pretend or pose.

Be self-reliant, independent. Be yourself.

Readers of Poetry.

A public librarian recently gave me evidence that man's regard for poetry is greater than woman's. Many pupil teachers and other students frequent his library and come in quest of books to help them in the study of literature.

He finds that when set to study a poet the male student generally borrows that poet's works to read for himself, but the female says: "Oh, I don't want to wade through all that; give me a book that will summarize his ideas and tell me what I ought to think about him." And the usual way is to give the girl a book that tells her what a man thinks she ought to think about poetry.—London Chronicle.

Old Names for Maladies.

Has Scotland still its own word for measles? Dean Ramsay relates that in 1775 Mrs. Betty Muirhead, who kept a boarding school for young ladies in the Trongate of Glasgow, asked a new pupil whether she had had smallpox. "Yes, mem," replied the girl, "I've had the sma-pox, the nirls, the blabs, the scaw, the kinkhost and the fever, the branks and the worm." "Sma-pox" and even the vague "fever" might not worry an English reader, but it needs a glossary to interpret the others in order as measles, nettlerash, itch, whooping cough, mumps and toothache.

The Way Out.

"Martha," said Parson Hurdly to his wife, "I'm disturbed about old Brother Grabbitt's funeral. As you know there isn't a good thing that I can truthfully say about him, and I am quite averse to any hypocritical eulogy, even at a ceremony of this kind."

"Well, Theophilus," suggested his wife, "can't you get around it by saying that a more deserving person has not died in this town for years?"

LESSON FOR ARDENT SWAIN

Startling Experience Cures Him of Making Love to Maidens at Balls.

It happened at a public ball. He was a man of serious intentions and numerous attentions, and she was rich and weddable. They sat in the hall under the stairway. It was a nook for lovers. There was not a soul in sight and, and he thought his golden opportunity had arrived. Down he flopped on his knees, and clasped her hand.

"Dear one," he whispered, not very loud, but loud enough, "I have loved you with the whole strength and ardour of a man's nature when it is roused by all that is pure and good and lovely in woman, and I can no longer restrain my pent-up feelings. I must tell you what is in my heart, and assure you that never yet has woman heard from my lips the secrets that are throbbing and—"

Just then a rustle was heard on the stairs above them, and a card fastened to a thread swung down and dangled not two inches from the lover's nose. On it were these portentous words:

"I'm a bit of a liar myself."

Then the awful truth flashed upon him, and he fled. As he went out of the door, sixteen girls from the head of the stairs sent sixteen laughs out into the damp night after him. He makes no love at balls now.

DISPENSING WITH THE DRUM

Other Countries Will Follow France in Discarding It as Part of Military Equipment.

It was some time ago that, acting upon the recommendations embodied in a report by a military commission, the French government reached the conclusion that the drum was no longer a necessary article of military equipment.

The report set forth that the drum was a serious encumbrance in marching; that rain impaired its usefulness; that its calls could not be distinguished in time of battle; that it consumed a period of two years to turn out an efficient drummer; and that by abandoning the use of the drum many thousands of youths and men would be released for active service.

Since the decision of the French government other European powers have followed its example in decreeing that the "drum must go."

The history of the drum is both ancient and honorable. The Egyptians employed it, and the Greeks ascribed its invention to Bacchus. The Spanish conqueror Pizarro is said to have found drums in South American temples. The snakes of Ireland, we are told, fled from the Emerald Isle before the drumbeats of St. Patrick.—Stray Stories.

That Joy-Wheel.

In an action in the king's bench division in which fairs and traveling shows were mentioned, Mr. Justice Lush made the admission that he did not know what a joy-wheel was. Mr. Lewis Thomas, K. C., at once plunged into explanations.

"A joy-wheel," he said, "is a wheel more or less on the horizontal, which rotates with more or less rapidity upon its own axis. People ride upon the spinning wheel, and the nearer one is to the periphery of the wheel the more quickly he is thrown off. The more rapidly the wheel rotates, the more surely he is flung into space."

His Lordship—Oh, that is it, is it? "The joy is with the people who look on," added counsel.—London Mail.

Makes America Seem Niggardly.

Compared with the salary and allowances of the president of France, the pay of the president of the United States almost sinks into insignificance. The French president enjoys some petty benefices apart from the $240,000 he draws yearly as salary and allowances. Supplies of vegetables for his table come from the kitchen gardens at Versailles, fruits from the orchards of Fontainebleau, game from the state forests and hay for his horses from the meadows of Rambouillet. Moreover, the state pays the wages of his table hands and his coachman, but not his chauffeurs, and his naval and military equeuries are maintained by the ministries of war and marine.

Somewhat Risky Bet.

The "funeral" at Zenta of a man named Peter Hirti provided a sensation. The cortege was approaching the cemetery when the lid of the coffin was forced off and Peter Hirti, alive and well, stepped out of the hearse on the road. On seeing him the mourners were seized with panic. When the excitement subsided Peter Hirti related that he had made a bet he could feign death and keep up the deception until the coffin in which he was placed was taken to the cemetery. The want of air compelled him to force the coffin lid before the cemetery was reached, and he therefore lost the bet.

Why He Was Suspicious.

Two friends, a Welshman and a Scotchman, happened to be lunching together recently in a restaurant. The latter kept looking around to see that his hat and coat remained still on the peg where he had left them.

"You are a suspicious chap," said his friend at last. "Who do you think is going to walk in here and steal our coats?" "Can't say," replied Scotty, "but I'll take good care nobody gets mine; yours went ten minutes ago."

Pretty Girls and Plain Men.

When a pretty woman marries a plain man it is not because she pities him. A woman loves a man because of his strength. His determination appeals to her, and wins her in the end, though she may not have been attracted to him in the beginning. Firmness compels a woman's admiration and respect, and that is the first stepping stone to love.

BIG SURPRISE TO MONARCH

First Experience With Seidlitz Powders Produces Startling Scene in Court in Delhi.

On the first consignment of seidlitz powders in the capital of Delhi, the monarch became deeply interested in the accounts of the refreshing draught. A box was brought to the king in full court, and the interpreter explained to his majesty how it should be used.

Into a goblet he put the contents of the twelve blue papers, and, having added water, the king drank it off.
This was the alkali, and the royal countenance expressed no signs of satisfaction. It was then explained that in the combination of the two powders lay the luxury, and the twelve white powders were quickly dissolved and as eagerly swallowed by his majesty.

With a wild shriek that will be remembered while Delhi is numbered among the kingdoms, the monarch rose, staggered, exploded, and, in his full agonies, screamed, "Hold me down!" then, rushing from the throne, fell prostrate on the floor.

There he lay during the long-continued effervescence of the compound, spurring like ten thousand penny-worth of pop, and believing himself in the agonies of death—a melancholy and humiliating proof that kings are mortal.

Natural Aptitude to Grasp a Situation Turned to Good Account
on Stage.

Natural aptitude to grasp a situation has been turned to account more than once on the stage, and, in one case, if the veracity of a favorite comedian goes for anything, it saved a panic and possible loss of life.

"We were playing one-night stands," said he, "in Kansas during the terrible period of cyclones, and found ourselves in a large, dilapidated building, called, by courtesy, a theater.

"The low comedian was on the stage in the part of a drunken husband receiving a vigorous lecture from his wife. 'Madam,' he had just observed, 'if you keep on you'll talk the roof off,' when there was a roar heard, followed by a tremendous crash, the building swaying like a tree in a storm. Everybody jumped to their feet, for they saw the roof had been carried away. They were about to turn and make one dash for the exits, when the comedian, coming down to the footlights, looked up into the air, and, quick as a flash, turned to the lady, and said: 'There,
what did I tell you?'

"The audience howled with laughter, and the quick-witted comedian was undoubtedly the means of preventing a serious calamity."

Gallant Unto Death.

When Sir Ralph Abercromby was mortally wounded in the battle of Aboukir, he was carried on a litter on board the Foudroyant. To ease his pain, a soldier's blanket was placed under his head. He asked what it was.

"It's only a soldier's blanket," he was told.

"Whose blanket is it?" he persisted, lifting himself up.

"Only one of the men's."
"I want to know the name of the man whose blanket this is," the dying commander insisted.

"It is Duncan Roy's of the Forty-second, Sir Ralph," said his attendant at last.

"Then see that Duncan Roy gets his blanket this very night," commanded the brave man, who did not forget even in his last agonies the comfort and welfare of his men. Of such unselfish stuff are true soldiers made—Youth's Companion.

To the Bitter End.

Old Bill Titcomb had taken a sack of grain to an old-fashioned mill to have it ground into meal. He watched the ponderous wheels revolving slowly while a tiny stream of meal trickled out. Finally his patience became exhausted.

"Do yer know," he said, "I cud eat that there meal faster than yer darned mill can grind it!"

"Yes?" remarked the miller, "but how long could you keep on eating it, Mr. Titcomb?"

"Wall," replied Old Bill, conclusively, "I reckon I cud keep on at that rate till I starved."—Short Stories.

Where the Lemon Came From.

The lemon, which is going to be dear this year on account of a shortage in the crop, has a very clear history. Unknown to the Greeks and Romans, it was introduced into Spain
by the Arabs in the twelfth century, and in 1494 was being cultivated in the Azores and shipped in large quantities to England.

The lemon tree, of which there are forty-seven varieties, is particularly fertile, a good specimen in Sicily ripening as many as 3,000 lemons during the season.

How Do You Take Your Defeat?

The way one takes his defeat is a pretty good test of his caliber. The strong one uses her failures for stepping stones instead of stumbling blocks. I know a very successful young woman who has made it a rule to use every misfortune that comes to her as a point of departure for something better. She has had losses and misfortunes which would have crushed most people, but they only stiffen her resolution, nerve her up for a new start.

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L.
Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years." Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a life time.
You can absolutely rely upon it.
Other people have done the testing and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Be-

Good Rule to Observe.

rule, if observed carefully in all your deportment, will be a mighty security

"MOVIES" FOR THE FAMILY

Time Not Far Off When Provision Will Be Made in Home for Picture Shows.

A prediction may safely be made that in the very near future provision will be made for moving pictures in the home. When a man decides to build a house to cost, say, $25,000 or more, the architect will plan the picture room in which the family and their guests can enjoy a select program of latest productions. It may be in connection with a dancing room or it can be accommodated in much less space. A projecting machine suitable for the home will not be very costly, and the films will doubtless be delivered each week by companies organized for that special purpose. Travelers returning from abroad will find pictures of cities and scenes they have visited a wonderful help in reciting to friends and relatives incidents of the places they have visited.

Another new industry which will soon come into existence in all the larger cities will be film photography.
Children's birthdays, garden parties, weddings and other functions which will in later days or years recall pleasant memories will be thus perpetuated by the film photographer. He will eventually be considered as much a necessity as the orchestra. Undoubtedly one of the most acceptable wedding presents in days to come from parents to bride and bridegroom will be a set of progressive films showing the children as they advanced from infancy to high school days. As a feature of the wedding festivities these pictures would afford both amusement and entertainment.—Popular Mechanics.

"BILL" HAD LIVED TOO LONG

Hatter Becomes Indignant When Customer Enters Complaint About His Purchase.

Pittsfield, in the Berkshire hills, had in the old days, like many another New England town, a number of men and women who were called "characters." One of these was "Bill" Brown, a man unfortunately addicted to drink, and frequently intoxicated for days at a time.

On one occasion he went into the shop of the local hatter, Mr. Smith, and asked for the best beaver he had.
Mr. Smith produced the desired article, saying, as he took the money:

"That beaver will last a man a lifetime."

Bill went proudly down the main street with his fine beaver on his head, and immediately celebrated the event with a protracted debauch.

When he recovered he returned to the shop with a most disreputable hat.

"Look here, I thought you said this here beaver would last me a lifetime."

"So it would," growled Mr. Smith,
"if you had died when you ought to."

Ten-Center.

A man with a thirst for information as well as his other thirst which was equally habitual, entered the bar of a downtown hotel and started a conversation with the prescription clerk.

"When a man orders a drink," said the customer, ordering a drink and pouring it high, "do you ask him whether he wants 10 or 15 cent goods?"

"Never," replied the pharmacist.

"Why don't you?"

"Well, we size a customer up. We give him the sort that he appears to be used to having. And we seldom miss a guess."

"That's very interesting. Well, I must be going. What do I owe you?"

"Ten cents."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Marine Telescope.

Make an oblong narrow box out of four pieces of quarter-inch board about two feet long by sixteen inches wide, and fit a piece of clear, clean glass across one end, held in place by brass-headed tacks, driven into the wood and overlapping the glass. Fill all the cracks with sealing wax to keep out the light. Then plunge the glass end two or three inches into the water and look through the open end. This simple marine telescope is made on the principle of the more elaborate glasses through which to look at the famous gardens under the sea near the Catalina islands.—Christian Herald.

Mrs. Malaprop's Car.

"I have," said Mrs. Malaprop, "a dispatchable and denounceable rims, epileptic springs, electric starter, infernal expanding brakes, autocratic lights, interval power plant, flash

Marry, Forsooth!

The following is ascribed to Senator Sorghum:

"Down in my state there is quite a character, who is known far and wide as a woman hater. One day some-of the men in the office thought they would have some fun with the old man, and consequently they asked him why he had never married.

"Marry!" the old fellow said.
"Bah! All these women talk about nowadays is either bridge or Bridge-et!"—Judge.

Go ax de dawg whut helt my foot
And wouldn't turn hit loose!"

Daily Thought.

A man's true wealth hereafter is the good that he does in this world to his fellows.—Mahomet.

Bob Taylor Lives,

In the two bright and beautiful books just issued, "Lectures and Best Literary Productions," and "Life and Career" of Senator Robert Love Taylor, handsomely illustrated, you cannot hear again his voice or see the humorous curl of his lips, that convulsed a continent with laughter, but, within the covers of these volumes, are the pictures woven of his wondrous words, and, laughing through their sunny pages, are all of the inimitable stories which he told to the multitudes. In "Life and Career," pens of genius have traced his romantic life from its morning in "Happy Valley," through his young and roseate dreams, through stress and storm, through cheering throngs, and on into the wailing shadows, loved and laurel crowned.

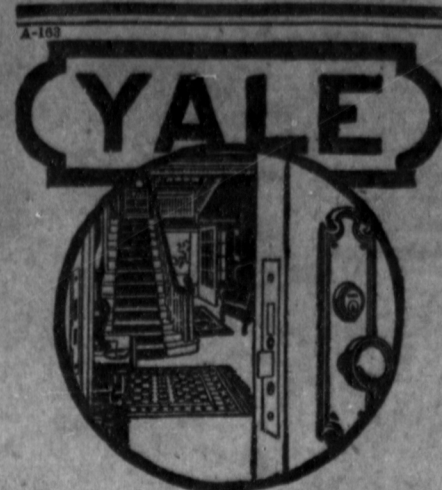

We expect to sell millions of these books. First edition going fast.
